

Post-Reconstruction Trade Mission to Southern Africa: Mozambique, Malawi and Zimbabwe—WEBINAR

Mission Overview

The Department of Commerce will lead a Certified Trade Mission to Southern Africa in June, 2020. The Mission will bring U.S. companies to Mozambique, Zimbabwe and Malawi to learn about post-reconstruction needs following devastating Cyclones Idai and Kenneth. Cyclone Idai is regarded as one of the worst natural disasters in the southern hemisphere resulting in billions of dollars of destroyed infrastructure. The United Nations and the World Bank partnered to conduct a full assessment of urgent needs and rebuilding assistance required. Companies participating on the Mission will hear from the development banks, USAID and other donors sourcing suppliers and service providers for technical assistance, construction, building new infrastructure and creating new and improved IT and health systems.
